Notes from 'Digital Pedagogy' session, Digital Humanities Institute, Beirut 2017. Led by Nadinne Aboulmagd and Maha Bali (American University of Cairo)

'Critical tool parade'. The following tools were showcased and briefly discussed:

https://realtimeboard.com https://gingkoapp.com (Useful for helping students organise writing?)

Google Docs

Google Forms

https://kahoot.it (game based learning) https://www.socrative.com

https://nearpod.com

Google Hangouts

https://vialogues.com

https://jitsi.org

https://voicethread.com

https://www.playposit.com